About Us

Poly film is a highly elastic, strong, lightweight polyethylene product which is widely used in several areas, from plastic shipping envelopes to fertilizer bags, to mulch film and food wrapping. The poly film provides a durable as well as a cost-effective way to shield and transit products. Established in the year 2004, we, Vasu Polymers (India) Pvt. Ltd., are a highly acclaimed Manufacturer and Supplier of premium quality Stretch Films, Stretch Film Rolls, Stretch Film Wrap. These can be easily availed by patrons at extremely reasonable market price points in diverse specifications of thickness, length and size. Offered films are fabricated in compliance with industrial guidelines of quality by using plastic materials of the premium grade at our technologically advanced infrastructure facility. All our packaging films are largely used for wrapping purposes and are highly demanded by the packaging industry for their unmatched attributes such as odour free nature, impressive finishing and moisture repellent properties. Moreover, severe quality tests are carried out by expert auditors in order to make sure that clients get flawless products from us consistently.

Sound Warehouse & Packaging Unit

We have a well-developed warehousing unit that facilitates us to stockpile our range of Stretch Films in required quantity. This unit is parted into several sub-divisions, which enable us to arrange our products in a systematic manner. We also maintain an adequate temperature in the warehouse, so that our films remain protected from extreme heat. In addition to this, we have deployed experienced supervisors, who keep a proper track record of all incoming as well as outgoing stock to evade any inventory loss.

Furthermore, wrapping is considered as a significant activity before the shipment of consignments and we use supreme quality wrapping material so that all our packaging films are not subjected to any sort of harm/ damage during transit. All types of wrapping work are done by our expert workers, who hold enormous experience in their respective field.

Raw Material

The raw material we procure is tested on necessary parameters so that the end product should be flawless. We are thankful to the associates who supplies high-grade raw inputs to us because this helps us to make a durable array of quality assured products, thereby making the customers happy.
